A PACKAGE OF SEEDS

I paid dime for a package of seeds
And the clerk tossed them out with a flip,
"We've got them assorted for every mans needs."
He said with a smile on his lip.
"Pansies and poppies and asters and peas
Ten cents a package and pick as you please."

Now seeds are just dimes to the man in ths store
And the dimes are the things that he needs
And I've been to buy them in seasons before,
But have thought of them merely as seeds
But it flashed through my mind as I took them this time
You have purchased a miracle for a dime.

You've a dimes worth of power no man can create
You've a dimes worth of life in your hand.
You've a dimes worth of mystery, destiny, fate,
Which the wisest creature cannot understand.
In this bright little package, now isn't it odd,
You've a dimes worth of something known only to God.

SEEING DOUBLE?

Will the real summer issue please stand up? There were two summer issues of the Seed Pod. We know it is a pretty good trick if you can get two summers in one year. We did.

The reason for the two summer issues came about this way. Check the inside cover of the first summer issue and you will find that we listed the summer issue with copy deadline on April 1st. We were told that this time of year is not summer but spring. Therefore we had two summers to correct the real summer issue deadline to July 1st.

In 1885 we offered a dozen varieties of Hibiscus -- now we have over 300.
We like 'em too much to quit now!
